

Ms Mary

When we learned about Mary Eckford,
we knew we had our name.

Falling on tough times, at just 14 Mary was found guilty of stealing an apron and a handkerchief in Devon, England and was promptly shipped off to Australia, arriving in Newcastle in 1801.

Little did she know, this may well have been the best decision of her life. On her voyage out to Australia she met the love of her life, William Eckford (who later became Newcastle's harbour pilot).

They married and went on to have eight children, and she got to live out her days in our beautiful city.

Ms Mary, we salute you.
